

Instructor: ..... Date: .....

Learner: ..... Regional Branch: .....

Program: ..... Center: .....

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We're not happy with the service here!

Learning Outcome

Describe complicated or unusual events in the past through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can deal with a difficult customer.
- I can discuss how to deal with problems.
- I can talk about things I am supposed to do and things that are supposed to happen.

Ask your partner:

- How do you deal with a problem at work or at school?
- How would you complain if the waiter argued with you?

Let's Explore!

The waiter in Vanessa's restaurant should be more on the ball*.

* When you are "on the ball" you are alert and take care of details.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Mark, you'd better check on the table with the large spaghetti order.
Waiter: Yes, I was supposed to take them the spaghetti and sauce separately for the children, which I did.
Vanessa: You might want to see what's happening over there.
Waiter: How is everything Ma'am?
Customer: You were supposed to bring us more soda. Where is it? You ought to be more on the ball young man!
Waiter: The drinks waiter is bringing it now, Ma'am.
Customer: Isn't this supposed to be a family restaurant? You might want to be more prepared.
Waiter: I'm sorry Ma'am, our customers rarely bring their children.
Customer: Then you'd better remove the 'Family Friendly' sign from the other window.
Waiter: I think you must be mistaken. That sign is in the window of the restaurant next door Ma'am. They were supposed to move it to their other window to avoid confusion.
Customer: In any case, you ought to be able to feed children!
Waiter: I'll pass that along to the management, Ma'am.
Customer: Emily! Stop throwing the spaghetti at your sister. Bridgette, do not paint the wall with the sauce! Gina, the pasta belongs in the bowl not on the floor! What a mess!
Waiter: I'll bring out a couple of warm cloths, Ma'am We'll get this cleaned up in no time.
Customer: Thank you. I must say, you're quite resourceful.
Waiter: Happy I could help, Ma'am.

Let's Practice!

Please accept my apology, Ma'am!

Instructions: Read and select the word to correctly complete each sentence.

1. I'm sorry / scary / silly, our customers rarely bring their children.
2. I think you must be mistake / mistaken / mistook; that sign is in the window of the restaurant next door Ma'am.
3. I'll pass / pay / bus that along to the management, Ma'am.
4. Happy I could hope / help / heal, Ma'am.

Let's Practice!

Mark ought to be ready for anything!

Instructions: Circle all the incorrect words in the sentence. Write the correct words above.

1. Mark, you'd bet check on that table with the large spaghetti order.
2. You mind want to see what's happening over there.
3. You ought to being more on the ball, young man!
4. You night want to be more prepared.
5. Then you should removes the 'Family Friendly' sign from the window.

Extension Activity

Write a description of a good waiter.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Discuss the qualities a good waiter should have.
- Next, write 100 words giving the qualities good waiters should/are supposed to have to provide good service.
- Read your paragraph to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I discuss customer service in a restaurant.

☐ ☐

I write about the qualities good waiters should have.

☐ ☐

I say how the waiters can provide good service.

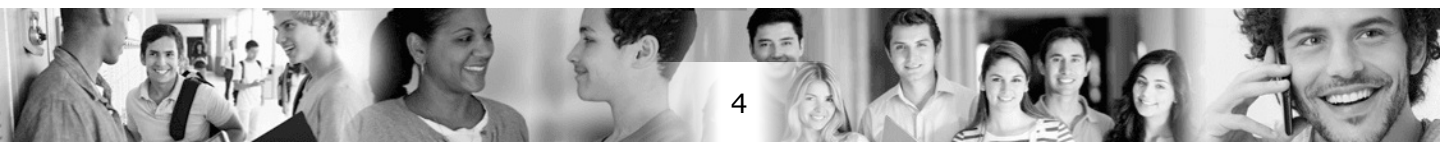

☐ ☐

I share what I have written.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- separately (adverb): one by one; individually
e.g. They wanted the spaghetti and sauce separately.
- soda (noun): soft drink; pop e.g. You were supposed to bring us more soda.
- prepared (adjective): ready
e.g. You might want to be more prepared for families!
- to remove (verb): to take away
e.g. Then you should remove the 'Family Friendly' sign.
- cloth (noun): a piece of fabric used to clean
e.g. I'll bring out a couple of warm cloths to wipe up the mess.
- resourceful (adjective): able to solve problems
e.g. I must say, you're quite resourceful.

Learning Points

Had Better, Ought To and Might

When you deal with problems you can use modals like: had better, ought to, and might want to, for what is advisable.

You use the modals to show what is necessary or advisable to do.

Note that you can use should in questions, but you cannot use ought to or had better in questions.

| Modal                                                                         | Meaning                                                                    |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Mark, you'd better check on that table with the large spaghetti order. | You have a strong obligation to do this. If not there may be consequences. |
| You might want to see what's happening over there.                     | This is a suggestion. You may not be aware that you should do it.          |
| You ought to be more on the ball young man!                            | This is a suggestion.                                                      |

Examples:

- You might want to be more prepared.
- Then you'd better remove the 'Family Friendly' sign from the window.
- In any case, you ought to be able to feed children!

Learning Points

Should and Supposed to

You use should and supposed to to talk about things that you need to do or things that need to be done.

You use should to give recommendations or advice. There is some obligation on the part of the person to do this.

For example:

You should open the door. (It's a good idea to do this)

You use supposed to to talk about obligations. This is something someone expects you to do or something expected to be done.

For example:

Who was supposed to open the doors at 5:00? They are still locked! (Someone was responsible for doing this and did not)

Examples:

- I was supposed to take them the spaghetti and sauce separately for the children.
- You were supposed to bring us more soda.
- Isn't this supposed to be a family restaurant?
- They were supposed to move it to their other window to avoid confusion.
- Waiters are supposed to be attentive.
- You should go and see what's happening in the kitchen.

